Minister's message

I am pleased to present the Canadian Food Inspection Agency's (CFIA) report on fees for 2022–2023.

Service fees help the CFIA better serve regulated parties and deliver on its mandate to safeguard food, animals, and plants, enhancing the health and well-being of Canada's people, environment, and economy.

This annual report provides details on each fee, such as the type of fee and rate of adjustment.

In 2022–2023, the CFIA continued to deliver inspections and other essential services to help prevent food safety risks and the introduction and spread of animal diseases, invasive species, and other plant pests. The CFIA also contributed to consumer protection and food security by facilitating market access opportunities for domestic and international trade, while continuing to collaborate with partners to respond to an ongoing worldwide highly pathogenic avian influenza outbreak.

The CFIA continues to review its service fees as it progresses toward an improved approach to recover costs under the Service Fees Act, guided by the principles of open and transparent fee management.

The CFIA remains committed to protecting Canada's food supply, animals, and plants and to serving Canadians.

The Honourable Mark Holland, PC, MP
Minister of Health

About this report

This report, which is tabled under section 20 of the Service Fees Act<sup>ii</sup>, the Low-Materiality Fees Regulations<sup>iii</sup>, and subsection 4.2.8 of the Treasury Board Directive on Charging and Special Financial Authorities<sup>iv</sup>, contains information about the fees the Canadian Food Inspection Agency (CFIA) had the authority to set in fiscal year 2022–23, including any that were collected by the Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA).

The report covers fees that are subject to the Service Fees Act<sup>ii</sup> and exempted from the Service Fees Act<sup>ii</sup>.

For reporting purposes, fees are categorized by fee-setting mechanism. There are three mechanisms:

1. Act, regulation or fees notice
The authority to set these fees is delegated to a department, minister, or Governor in Council pursuant to an act of Parliament.
2. Contract
Ministers have the inherent authority to enter into contracts, which are usually negotiated between the minister and an individual or organization, and which cover fees and other terms and conditions. In some cases, that authority may also be provided by an act of Parliament.
3. Market rate or auction
The authority to set these fees is pursuant to an act of Parliament or a regulation, and the minister, department, or Governor in Council has no control over the fee amount.

For fees set by act, regulation, or fees notice, the report provides totals for fee groupings as well as detailed information for each fee. The CFIA did not have fees set by market rate or auction.

Although the fees the CFIA charges under the Access to Information Act<sup>v</sup> were subject to the Service Fees Act<sup>ii</sup>, they are not included in this report. Information on the CFIA's access to information fees for 2022–23 is in our annual report to Parliament on the administration of the Access to Information Act<sup>v</sup>: Annual Reports on the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act<sup>vi</sup>.

Remissions

In 2022–23, the CFIA was subject to the requirements to issue remissions under section 7 of the Service Fees Act<sup>ii</sup> and subsection 4.2.4 of the Treasury Board Directive on Charging and Special Financial Authorities<sup>iv</sup> to remit a fee, in whole or in part, to a fee payer when a service standard was not met. The CFIA’s remission policy and procedures, pursuant to the Service Fees Act<sup>ii</sup>, are not yet in place as the Agency is in the process of determining the way forward on an approach to modernizing its service fees. The implementation of the Safe Food for Canadians Act<sup>vii</sup> has impacted the complexity of CFIA’s fees structure and efforts continue to modernize the Agency’s fee regime and Fees Notice<sup>viii</sup>. As part of this process, the Agency is committed to aligning fees and service standards, including a remission policy and procedures for when service standards are not met, to be consistent with the Service Fees Act<sup>ii</sup>.

In 2022–23, the CFIA also issued remissions under its enabling legislation<sup>1</sup>. These remissions have been for reasons other than not meeting a service standard. The CFIA’s remission policy is on the following web page: CFIA User Fee Remission Policy<sup>ix</sup>. The other sections of this report provide detailed amounts on the CFIA’s remissions for 2022–23.

<sup>1</sup> The Canadian Food Inspection Agency Act<sup>xi</sup> (CFIA Act), Subsection 29(1), provides the Minister of Health with the authority to remit all or part of any fee fixed under section 24 or 25 of the CFIA Act, or under any Act that the CFIA enforces. The CFIA’s User Fee Remission Policy provides for remission of fees to be remitted in cases where the fees are unreasonable, unjust or not in the public interest.
